Students with regular school attendance are more likely to succeed. Every day matters for every child — even in Kindergarten and First Grade.

Regularly missing a day or two of school? Together, schools, families and communities can help. Check in with your school to learn about resources.

Visit the school district’s website for more information or visit Every-Day-Matters.org.